united docs GmbH has been focused on marketing documentaries worldwide since 2001. In addition to our activities on behalf of the broadcasting companies NDR, SWR, WDR, HR and Radio Bremen, the numerous independent producers we represent now make up an ever-increasing proportion of our portfolio. We see ourselves not only as a conventional distributing company, but also actively support and promote talented young directors, new ideas and creative formats. It is our aim to create a global platform for discussion and to disseminate the latest findings in various areas of research, in keeping with the tradition of high-quality journalism. We hold one of the largest portfolios of documentaries, mini-series and long-term series in a wide variety of genres, and add more than 200 new titles each year. Our trademark is award-winning, blue-chip historical documentaries that rely on a broad range of styles and story-telling techniques. While we have traditionally focused on investigative topics, a new addition to our portfolio is the science genre. Over the past two years, we have begun marketing a growing archive of clips and formats dealing with state-of-the-art research.
