Most importantly, the contributor will continue to own the copyright of the original footage. Content generators from around Africa will send their material to our main office in Nairobi, where it will be verified and re-edited as necessary to create a slick, marketable and branded story. A unique and easily navigable system has been developed to allow broadcasters to view and purchase high-quality video for broadcast on their TV Channels. The fates of defined historical persons or past historical events in ancient times are considered in terms of human understanding and logic, and through the prism of the impact of divine forces on human society. Short documentary films in a simple and accessible form tell the history of mankind. Films are shot without any comments from academic historians and allow an inquisitive audience to make conclusions on its own about a particular historical event or person, without the pressure of an authoritative opinion.
